WELCOME TO THE 2ND ANNUAL BERGEN COUNTY CARE FAIR!

A MESSAGE FROM THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE

Dear Care Fair Attendee:

You are joining us today to learn more about the healthcare, wellness, and support providers available in Bergen County. Whether you or a loved one is facing a new diagnosis or existing health challenge or you just want to educate yourself about available resources to support healthy living, the Bergen County Care Fair is here to help!

We understand that if you are a patient or a caregiver, it can be an additional burden to try to navigate all of the options and choices you have, which is why we've gathered so many of them in one place. We hope today's event helps you determine which providers and services best suit your needs. The Bergen County Care Fair is intended to be a comprehensive resource, not just for this afternoon, but for our residents each and every day. That's why the virtual Care Fair will be available at www.bergencarefair.org, where this information will be accessible whenever you need it.

Our first Care Fair in 2017 was a great success, with more than 1,300 residents in attendance. I'm proud to say that our second annual event has grown significantly. We have over 200 exhibitors (a 50% increase over 2017!) representing a diverse array of health care, wellness, and support services presenting at the Fair today.

On behalf of the people of Bergen County, I want to thank the Care Fair Steering Committee, sponsors, and exhibitors who have helped make the second annual Bergen County Care Fair possible. We appreciate the opportunity to improve wellness and quality of life throughout our communities.

Sincerely,

HOW TO USE THE GUIDE

1. Exhibitor Profiles

In the first section of the Guide beginning on page 9, Exhibitors are presented by Category as listed on the prior page and in numerical order by Table Numbers. These table numbers correspond with the floor layout map accompanying the Information Guide.

Complete contact information and a brief description of the services provided by each Exhibitor are included in this section.

2. Exhibitor Index

In the second section of the Guide beginning on page 44, Exhibitors are listed in an Index that details their specialization. This would include, for example, particular areas of expertise like treating Autism, Cancer, Diabetes, and Vision Impairment or providing Caregiving, Diagnostic Testing, Hospice Care, etc. Many Exhibitors have more than one specialization and will be found under more than one heading.

Table Numbers that correspond with the floor layout map accompanying the Information Guide are included next to the name of each Exhibitor in the Index to facilitate finding them.

LONGER VIEW

Bergen County Care Fair is a godsend

Let's face it, we all have special needs. Each and every one of us – no matter how strong and powerful we may feel – faces our own challenges.

Big. Small. Temporary. Permanent.

Sometimes our needs are health-related. Sometimes they are financial. Too often, it is a combination of both, causing a devastating mix that can prove overwhelming for many families.

And compounding the situation is the fact that when health issues arise or we need additional support, we don't always know where to turn. Finding the right care provider at the right price is not easy. In fact, navigating "the system" can be daunting, if not outright unbearable.

Jim Tedesco

Recognizing this difficult reality, last year, Bergen County Executive Jim Tedesco and his team did something really innovative and really important: They organized a one-stop shop of Bergen County providers of health-care, supports and services. Appropriately named the Bergen County Care Fair, the effort brought together – under one roof and on one website – patients, clients, providers, advocates and government officials from throughout our county.

The event was a huge success. More than 1,300 people attended and more than 100 organizations participated. Information was provided. Training was conducted. And the fair provided a unique opportunity for networking and invaluable one-on-one conversations for everyone in attendance.

Without question, it was a win-win.

As a result, the county executive and his folks are taking this initiative to the next level. Not only are they planning for a second event – the 2nd Annual Bergen County Care Fair on May 6 – they are also planning to leverage this unprecedented collection of community providers by maintaining the easy-to-use website – <https://www.bergencarefair.org/> – and exploring additional ways to enhance access to all that the County has to offer in terms of healthcare, supports and services. This is key, because sustaining this initiative over the long-term will undoubtedly help many Bergen residents live longer, better lives.

As a disability advocate as well as a former municipal leader, I can tell you that efforts like these are not just necessary; they are godsend. They provide needed resources. They provide needed care. They provide access to services and supports for people who might otherwise be shut out of "the system" – people who need and deserve a little additional help, particularly in times of crisis.

And in the process, they provide hope where none may have existed.
